One-Day Sourdough Workshop and Lunch:

Just a few minutes' drive from Mayfield Garden lies Essington Park, a graceful homestead circa 1860.

You will be treated to a one-day informal, relaxed, and fun workshop by your host and renowned chef, Simone Logue who demonstrates the art of making a starter, all you need to know about bringing the world of sourdough baking into your everyday life and some of Simone's favourite toppings and accompaniments for easy entertaining.

Begin with morning tea and welcome by Simone, with discussion about the joys of sourdough baking. A non-daunting approach to baking with bits of easy-to-get technical information sprinkled throughout.

Back to the bench to check on fermentation and see how our bread is rising. Shape bread into your own banneton basket for you to take home or be kept rising at Essington if you are staying overnight. Your bread will be ready to bake the following day.

Simone will then demonstrate how to score your bread and bake in a Dutch oven along with two of Simone's favourite toppings for sourdough bruschetta, which we will enjoy with a glass of wine or a cup of tea to finish our day.
